WEDNESDAY, Nov. 3-P. M.

The feeling was somewhat unsettled in the Stock market this morning, but upon the whole appeared to gain a little in strength, after New-York Central had passed the ordeal, with considerable steadiness. Specpassed the ordeat, with considerable scanniess. Speculation appears to drag, however, and there is much less disposition on the part of outsiders to assist in the less disposition on the part of outsiders to assist in the rallying movements than was anticipated. This is, perhaps, partly in consequence of the effort making to perhaps, partly in consequence of the effort making to advance the rates of money: but many have been frightened from the market by the continued decline, and the reports, which are well founded, of greatly diminished business on the Western railways. The problem now to be solved, in a speculative point of view, is whether a continued abundance of money will serite people enough to neutralize the advance fortune. excite people enough to neutralize the adverse features of small earnings and very scanty profits. When the of small earnings and very scanty profits. When the great outside public is fairly engaged in speculation, the inclination is generally to "go it blind," with but little reference to actual merits or values, but when at a point of hesitation, it is a very different matter. The great leading stock of the market, New-York Central, has been well maintained throughout the day, showing, in fact, a small advance as compared with closing quotations of yesterday. Reading also has shown great firmness, though not quite so active as for a day or two past. The Philadelphians have been free buyen for several days, and are taking considerable stock out of the market. Illinois Central was more active, and quite steady for cash stock at the quotations of yesterday. Galena opened at 781, but fell off a little in the call, closing tolerably firm at 781. Rock Island had but little animation, but held quotations with tolerable steadiness. A rumor was current in the street today that a new injunction had been obtained against the bridge, but we can find no confirmation of it. The October receipts will probably reach $90,000. Hudson River was firm at 32 in the morning, and later in the day at 324 bid. The October earnings will probably thew a small increase, while the expenses have been materially diminished. Michigan Central, Michigan Southern and Toledo were a fraction better, but not prominent in the transactions. Delaware and Hudson copped off 1 * cent from opening quetations, while Pansylvania Coal advanced 2. At the Second Board party everything on the list underwent a slight imcomment the market became quite tame, and in some instances a fraction lower. The movement in State stocks to-day, though not very large, has been generally towards higher prices. Missouris advanced again to 89, and North Carolinas show an improve-

The market has been dull for several days for Treasury Notes, but holders ask previous notations are nominally i P cent prem. for 41 $\psi$ cents; $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent prem. for 41 $\psi$ cents; par for 4 and 41 $\psi$ cents, and $\frac{1}{2}$ $\psi$ cent discount for 3 $\psi$ cents. Some of the Banks are asking higher rates of interest for money, 5 & cent. Those Banks which have been losing considerable coin to the South are not disposed to lend as freely as they did twenty days ago, and in several cases have been obliged to call in leans. The supply of money, however, from other quarters is abundant at 4 ? cent, and some leading stock houses continue to have considerable amounts from private sources at 3 V cent. The result of the recent movement to advance the rates of interest appears to be that, with many loans at previous rates and loans already made continuing undisturbed at previous rates, there has been an advance of 121 P cent established on the bulk of the loans made on the extreme low rates ruling in October. In paper the change is not important, as the supply of first-class been made at j ? cent higher rates. The impression in the street appears to be that the improvement we have noticed cannot but be temporary.

October last year, it will be remembered, was the crisis month. The Imports of the month this year show but little change from those of October, 1857, but the amount of merchandise thrown on the market has increased seven and a half millions of dollars. Nearly two-thirds of the imports last year, in consequence of the entire prostration of business, were warehoused for a future market. The Exports of merchandise show a considerable falling off, and the exports of specie a large increase. This latter shipment has, however, now received a check.

We have received the following card from the President of the California Steamship Line, via Ricaragua, in reply to a manifesto from Maximo Jerez, who styles bimself "Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the Republic of Nicaragua, near the Government of the United States," but who, we believe, has never been received by that Govern-

CALIFORNIA STRAMSHIP LINE, VIA NICARAGUA,
New York, Nov. 3, 1838.
As President of the above-named Company, and in compiliance with a duty which I owe to the stockholders therein and the public, I have been compelled to take notice of a card or letter published this morning and dated Nov. 2, sixued by Maximo lerus, who styles himself Minister Flenipotentiary and Envoy Latraordinary of the Republic of Nicaragua, near the Government of the United States.
Of this individual I know nothing more than that he was at the Minister of War in Nicaragua, under Wan. Waker, and one of his note active partisans; that he afterward deserted Walter and joined to the Grands party under Martinez. He appears to hold also some on mission from his Government near that of the United States, which has produced no satisfactory results, as all the world knows.

If he really holds the exalted charters, of a public Minister Pleuipotentiary, it is much to be regretted that he should come down from so high a position to attack an America. Company that has acquired the approbation of our Government, and the public patronare.

I have simply to say, that the aforesaid card or notice, signed by said Maximo Jerez, is false, malicious and defamatory in all particulars relative to our Company and the Isthmus Transit.

In proof of this I refer the public to the following extracts of letters received from the Transportation Agent of the Company in Nicaragna, Mr. C. C. Fitzgerald, and from our General Agent. Col. O. W. Childs, formerly State Engineer in the State of New-York; also to the letter of the Hon. A. J. de Yrissarri, the Minister Feinipotentiapy and Envoy Extraordinary—a gentleman of high character, and much esteemed both in this country and abroad.

I am perfectly astisfied that the public shall decide the question of versuity between the Honerable Doctor General Jerez on one side, and the above named American citizens and the Honerable A. J. de Yrissarri on the other.

AGREMENT OF THE COMMITTEES.
CINCINATI, Oct. 29.—The undersigned Committee a on the part of the associates and the stockholders of the Osio as. the saccounts between the former and the Company, entertaining a difference of opinion as to the construction of the contract and the obligation of the associates, after full examination of the accounts as presented, with their vouchers, which have been found correct, have agreed on the following as a compromise of the points of difference, and they respectfully submit the same to the Board of Directors, asking them to confirm and make it a legal and binding settlement.

It is agreed:

Fourth: The Company to acknowledge a final balance of $60,000 due the Associates as each let September, 1853, being in full settlement of all demands and accounts of each against the other under the contract.

The Board of Directors of the Great Western Railroad have made an advance of $500,000 to the Detroit and Milwaukee Road, which will be sufficient to complete and stock the entire line.

On Saturday, last, Mr. Kilbraith, the Receiver, appointed by the United States Circuit Court, at Cincinnati, made a formal demand upon Sheriff Mathers, the receiver appointed by the Superior Court, for the assets of the Ohio Life and Trust Company, in his possession. Mr, Mathers declined to make the surrender, nd will probably be cited before the United States Court for contempt. The Cincinnati Gazette says:

Court for contempt. The Cincinnati Gazette says:

We understand that the Judges of the United States Court are very firm in the decision rendered last week, at the time Mr. Ribraith was apointed Receiver. If this statement be correct, the full strength of the law will, undoubtedly, be put forth to compel obedience to the process of the Court. Should the proceedings finally carried on in the United States Court, several important points will have to be decided, which will be sharply contested at every stop. For instance, an effort will be made to compel the banks that have received funds from the Trust Company since its failure, to disgorge the various amounts, to go into the general aggregate for the hench of all. Another position will be to compel the stockholders who have received dividends since the Company beame insolvent, to pay back the sums so paid. The third position, however, and one which will be contested with deeperation, will be to make the Trusters personally liable, and as they are supposed to be worth in the aggregate, between three and four milions of dollars, not a point in the legal contest will be yielded by either side. When, or where it will end can only be a matter of conjecture.

In relation to the probable value of these assets, it remarks:
A large proportion of the Bailrouds' bonds are as valueless as the paper upon which they are printed, while others may be regarded as need. The bonds of this city, and of countries in this and other States, are good, and will eventually be paid, but they comprise but a small portion of the assets.
Of the $313,321 in individual notes, it is safe to predict the not over 10 $\perp \text{ cent upon the sum total will ever be realized. A portion of these are secured by mortgages upon real estate, but are so mixed up with other transactions that it may require years to arrive at a fluid estiment. Some of these notes are dated as far back as 1852; a portion of them have been renewed several times, and others protested and kept on hand. The indebtedness of one firm reaches over $100,500, for which it would probably be wisdom to receipt in full at a very liberal discount.

THE GREAT CATTLE MARKETS

OF NEW-YORK, BOSTON, PHILADELPHIA AND ALBANY ARRORED WEEKLY EXPRESSIVE FOR THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE—with full particulars of Receipts, Sales and Prices of Berway, Mike Cows, Vari Calves, Swize, Sares and Lames in New York, made up from personal observation, by Solon Robesso, on Womenshay Evening (the great market day), exchaively for The New-York Tribune, and remod Faira Mourism in the Semi-Werkly.

BEEVES in New-York are mostly sold by Cattle Brokers, on commission, at so much Pheol, as they estimate the weight of meat in the four quarters will make the sum taked, at the market price $4.8—4, a bullock that will dress 8 cm., as 18c. $7.8, the hide and fat is included in the estimated weight. The number reported for this city in 1837 was 183, 345; of these 116, 288 were sold at the great Wednesday markets (Washington Drove-Yard, Forty, South street), averaging for each market 2,241, and varying from 785 to 3,382 upon different days. The total number for 1856 was 187,057, and the average at market on Wednesday, 3,394.

CALVES, if 61 for yeal, are sold by the pound, live weight.

varing from 1816-3, and the average at market on Wednesday, 3,334.

CALVES, if fit for veal, are sold by the pound, live weight. Many very young ones are sold at a price per head.

MILK COWS generally vary according to the price of beef. A high beef market draws fat cows from the dairies, and makes room for fresh ones. Poor cows sell, on an average, for $250 $30; medium ones, $350$$45; good ones, $500$$$65; extra fine cows, $752$$$100. The number last year was 12,849. The cow merchant generally reserves the calf.

SHEEF AND LAMBS are nold mostly by brokers at so much per head, ranging from $229$$$6 for common stock, and $72$$$15 for extra. In 1837, the number sold was $44,000; in 1306, the number was 662,739.

SWINE are received mostly by railroad, and sold at Allerton's, Forty-fourth attreet, or Turner's, Thirty-seventh attreet and Hudson River, generally by the pound, live weight. The number reported in 1237 was 225,942; the gross price ranged from 4 to 8c., and for the first nine months generally over 7c. The number received in 1866 was 345,914.

18	The most decided characteristic of business in	1 th	j

The most decided characteristic of business in the attle market on Tuesday, was its extreme duliness. It being election day, probably kept a good many buyers away, and those who come in pursuit of first-class stock bought very few, because very few were in the yards. The general quality of the cattle yarded was below medium. There were surprising numbers of two and three year-old steers of fair character for stocking a farm, but totally unfit for slaughter. It is a monstrous wrong to kill off such vast numbers of such young growing steers, in the low cordition of flesh that thousands are of those here this week.

Then there is a considerable number of real scallawage-a term we use to indicate cattle not only unfit to kill, but unfit to keep; animals that are naturally coarse, mean, ill-shaped, slow to grow and slower to fatten, and only salable at the lowest range of prices, living or dead. It is, however, gratifying to say that the number of such stock has decreased wonderfully within the past five years.

The small number of good cattle this week keeps up the price full as high as last week, while the lower grades were offered freely at half a cent a pound lower, with a very sad prospect of closing out all in the yards at any price.

As will be seen by our table of quotations, we have not altered our figures, while in fact there is a very decided difference in the market, the best cattle selling quick a a slightly advanced price, and many cattle sold at 3c, that would not have brought that last week, while for the lower grades the market is certainly not as good, either in price or readiness of sale. The increase in the number has overstocked the market, and will probably cause serious losses on that class of cattle selling at 7c. and under P 15, and not over $30 or

The weather, both on Tuesday and Wedn what we usually call raw, it being cloudy and threatthis vicibity has been good, and many regret that they parted with their stock so early. The largest portion of the grass cattle of this State, it is supposed, have been already sold. It is now thought by men of good judgment that good beeves will command 9 29 ic. it net during the Fall and early Winter.

The advance of freight upon Western Cattle takes place this week, so that the stock of next market will feel the effect. Cattle are to be weighed at Buffalo, and a car load limited to 18,000 pounds, charging all surplus, but deducting nothing if the load falls short. No return passes are to be given to those who come on in charge of steck after this date, and only one hand allowed to come with a drove. The price pe car has lately been, from Buffalo or Surpeosion Bridge to Albany, $55; and this week the Hudson River car has lately been, from Buñalo or Sespecsion Bridge to Albany, $55; and this week the Hudson River road charged only $2 a car, and the bests only 12 cents a head, and treated drovers to tood and lodging in the bargain. To balance this, the Eric road has paid back $6 a car, making the price $77, and will continue to do this, or more, or whatever che is necessary to make the freight from Buffalo to New-York the same as it is by the Central road. The probability is that this kind of pulling and hauling will soon break the combination, and leave the roads open to free competition.

A CATTLE BROKER KILLED.

ONVILLE HURD, for many years known in this market as a drover and entile broker, and very much respected as an honest business man, and esteemed for his urbanity and gentlemanly deportment, was killed instantly upon a branch of the Eric Road, between Corning and Rochester, last Friday, by an accident that threw the train off the track and down as embankment. He was a native of Dutchess County, but has of late had his family residence at Newark, near Rochester, N. Y. His death is much lamented by the large circle he was a cquainted with in this market. H. M. Valentine, another cuttle broker, was badly injured at the same time, and J. R. Paddock of Indiana, drover, was also injured.

We call attention to our excellent report of the Albany cattle market, which we print in the Daily on Wednesday, and in the Weekly on Thursday, and Semi-Weekly on Friday, cach week. It must be valuable to both buyers and sellers East and West. The highest-priced lot of cattle we hear of sold at Albany this week was one of 42 head, fed by M. Budlong on his Genesee River farm, that averaged 14j owt., and brought 4jc. P lb, live weight.

There are a pair of Texas Oxen here to-day that are worthy of special notice, having been fed two years by Mr. Budlong, and until they are really fat, prime beef, and estimated to weigh 9 cwt. net each, and were held at $90 each, one having been injured in getting out of the car.

at $90 each, one having been injured in getting out of the car.

This pair were bought two years ago at $120, and selected from John Nichola's drove by Isaac Budlong and George Ayrault to try the experiment upon of feeding in the same manner as our common breeds are fed, and they were put into the hands of one of our best feeders, and he has pretty fully proved that the Texans can be fatted, but that it is not profitable. His advice to other feeders is, "better let'em be." He thinks, however, that a cross of the pure Texas stock with our com-mon cattle might produce a class of most valuable working each.
